Mission Statement

Enriching the community through excellence in choral music.

Tom Matrone, Artistic Director

Tom Matrone is beginning his sixth year as conductor and Artistic Director of the Springfield Mid-America Singers. In his appointment he has elevated the singers with his organizational skills and wealth of conducting and educational experience. Matrone has endeavored to infuse the choral art within the community at large for the purpose of choral music awareness and education.

A graduate of Northwest University (B.A., Biblical Studies) and Drake University (Master of Music, Choral Conducting), and presently a Doctoral Candidate in Choral Conducting at the University of South Carolina.

Matrone is the Chair of the Music Department at Evangel University as well as the Director of Choral Activities, training students in music leadership and development.

Matrone has been guest conductor and seminar speaker at national and international platforms in the United States, Canada, South Africa, Asia and Europe. In addition to his dual post he holds the title of the Director of Worship Resource and Consulting for the Assemblies of God offering valuable resource to music directors and district music directors in the United States.
